1. MISSION AND OBJECTIVES

1.1 Mission

The International Forum for the Aftercare of Racehorses (IFAR) is an organisation dedicated to promoting the care of Thoroughbreds during their lifetime.

1.2 Objectives

- i. To raise awareness globally of the importance of welfare for Thoroughbred racehorses.
- ii. To improve education on lifetime care, including end of life issues, of all international racing communities and the general public.
- iii. To develop a network which allows best practice to be easily shared between racing and aftercare organisations.
- iv. To promote the versatility, adaptability and potential of Thoroughbreds for equestrian sport.

2. VALUES

2.1 Values

IFAR's mission is founded on the following core values:

- i. Leadership – is leveraging our global depth of experience and knowledge to promote and share best practice in securing lifetime care and alternative careers for thoroughbred racehorses.
- ii. Accountability – is raising the awareness within the international racing community of its responsibility for the welfare of its equine participants.
- iii. Communication – is providing relevant and timely communication between member organisations to facilitate the exchange of information.
- iv. Empathy – is maximising the wellbeing of thoroughbred racehorses and helping develop greater understanding by owners of their responsibilities through education and awareness.
